

Monica Y. Lackey-Harris

Monica Y. Lackey-Harris is a seasoned property management professional, consultant, and entrepreneur with over two decades of experience serving residential and commercial communities nationwide. As the owner of Magnolia Blossoms Consulting, LLC, Monica is dedicated to providing quality housing solutions for underserved populations and guiding clients toward sustainable housing and micro-farming opportunities.

Throughout her career, Monica has held leadership roles in property management, compliance, and operations, consistently achieving high standards in regulatory compliance and operational excellence. Her proudest achievements include successfully managing multi-million-dollar renovation projects, leading compliance teams to outstanding audit results, and developing impactful training programs for property management professionals. Monica's work is driven by a deep commitment to helping others, solving complex challenges, and building strong, collaborative teams.

Guided by the philosophy that we are all responsible for helping others and preserving our planet, Monica brings a holistic and sustainable approach to every project. Her military service has instilled in her a strong sense of discipline and dedication to caring for and protecting those she serves. Additionally, her culinary background enhances her efforts to promote sustainability and improve access to quality food sources within the communities she supports.

Monica's innovative consulting work includes the development of a micro-farm, providing a practical space to identify and test new practices for future operations. Her unique blend of expertise in property management, compliance, sustainability, and community engagement makes her a trusted partner for clients seeking meaningful, lasting solutions.
